Conflict of interest policy

A policy that defines conflict of interest, identifies the classes of individuals within the organization covered by the policy, facilitates disclosure of information that may help identify conflicts of interest, and specifies procedures to be followed in managing conflicts of interest. A conflict of interest arises when a person in a position of authority over an organization, such as an officer, director, or manager, may benefit financially from a decision he or she could make in such capacity, including indirect benefits such as to family members or businesses with which the person is closely associated. For this purpose, a conflict of interest does not include questions involving a person's competing or respective duties to the organization and to another organization, such as by serving on the boards of both organizations, that do not involve a material financial interest of, or benefit to, such person.

Control

For purposes of determining related organizations, control means:

- in regards to nonprofit organizations and other organizations without owners or persons having beneficial interests, whether such organization is taxable or tax-exempt:
 1. In the case of a parent/subsidiary relationship:
 - a. The power to remove and replace (or to appoint or elect, if such power includes a continuing power to appoint or elect periodically or in the event of vacancies) a majority of the nonprofit organization's or other organization's directors or trustees, or
 - b. Management or board overlap where a majority of the subsidiary organization's directors or trustees are trustees, directors, officers, employees, or agents of the parent organization.
 2. In the case of brother/sister nonprofit organizations:
the same persons constitute a majority of the members of the governing body of both organizations.
- In the case of stock corporations and other organizations with owners or persons having beneficial interests, whether such organization is taxable or tax-exempt, control means any of the following relationships:
 1. Ownership of more than 50% of the stock (by voting power or value) of a corporation,
 2. Ownership of more than 50% of the profits or capital interest in a partnership,
 3. Ownership of more than 50% of the profits or capital interest in a limited liability company treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes, regardless of the designation under state law of the ownership interests as stock, membership interests, or otherwise,
 4. Being a managing partner or managing member in a partnership or limited liability company which has three or fewer managing partners or managing members (regardless of which partner or member has the most actual control),
 5. Being a general partner in a limited partnership which has three or fewer general partners (regardless of which partner has the most actual control),
 6. Being the sole member of a disregarded entity, or

See Regulations sections 301.7701-2, 3, and 4 for more information on classification of corporations, partnerships, disregarded entities, and trusts.

Control may be indirect. For example, if the organization controls Entity A, which in turn controls (under the definition of control above) Entity B, the organization will be treated as controlling Entity B. To determine indirect control through constructive ownership of a corporation, the rules under section 318 (relating to constructive ownership of stock) shall apply. Similar principles apply for purposes of determining constructive ownership of another entity (a partnership or trust). If an entity (X) controls an entity treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes by being one of three or fewer partners or members, then an organization that controls X also controls the partnership.

Controlled Entity

An organization controlled by a controlling organization under section 512(b)(13). For the definition of control in this context, see section 512(b)(13)(D) and Regulations section 1.512(b)-1(L)(4).

Controlling organization under section 512(b)(13)

Section 512(b)(13) treats payments of interest, annuity, royalties, and rent from a controlled entity to a controlling organization as unrelated business taxable income under certain circumstances. If the organization is a trust, a substantial contributor includes the creator of the trust (without regard to the amount of contributions the trust received from the creator and related persons). Any person who is a substantial contributor at any time generally remains a substantial contributor for all future periods even if later contributions by others push that person's contributions below the 2% figure discussed above. Gifts from the contributor's spouse are treated as gifts from the contributor. Gifts are generally valued at fair market value as of the date the organization received them.
